GOMPERS ON ARBITRATION.

He Thought the Strike Should Continue a Little Longer.

CHICAGO, July 13 .- In the course of in interview, shortly after midnight, amuel Compers, President of the merican Federation of Labor, reverting to the cause and effect of the present rists, said:

"I doubt whether the action of the Committee on Arbitration to be appoint- | RELATING TO SCHOOL FUNDS. of by President Cleveland will mater ally affect the Pullman strike as it was originally, because I do not see how it has anything to do with the Interstate

My understanding is that the O'Neill law can only take effect when the Com-merce law is violated." He thus left the impression that the rbitration would be of no force, because he Pullman strike did not come under the law of arbitration, and therefore the only means of obtaining a settlement would be by carrying on the strike. In passing his comments o moral law, strike legislation and historical precedents, Mr. Gompers referred to the settlement of the great miners' strike in England, last year, when Lord Rosebery arbitrated the differences between the mine owners and strikers.

"The conditions," said he, "were the ame as now exist here. Military force was brought in and all of this done to force a settlement; but it could not be one in that way, Lord Rosebery took upon himself to settle it and did. It eems to me if that could be done in Europe, it could be done here in Amerca. We must have strict arbitration aws here."

In furtherance of his idea of the moral force of the Government, which he erms arbitration, Mr. Gompers seemed to think that the strike must be carled on for some time yet, when he said "There must be contending forces in have an arbitration. The President must appoint his commitee and they must come here. They ave full power to act. They will have o closely examine this whole matter and then report to the President and Congress, and then action will be aken by that body. If the strike is opped at any time it will then be thei and the committee will have thing to report."

Mrs. J. H. LANSING, of South Glen's Fulls, Saratoga County, N. Y., writes: "After my third child was born, I barely gained strength enough in two years' time, to be able to craw about to accomplish the little had to do, and that only by lying down to rest many times each day,
had sick headache very often, many pains and aches all the time. After I had taken one bottle of your 'Favorite Prescription' I could see a great change in my strength and less each headaches. Continued taking the
